Another full turn key design and engineer contract for Williams River Steel, this project involved a full showroom and sales/administration offices, drive through service department with 10 hoists and detailing facilities.

The issue of low water pressure in the area was a design concern, and to overcome this issue in the event of fire, construction took place over a 300,000 ltr water storage tank that contains the site's total requirements along with the installation of specific electric and diesel pumps for fire fighting purposes.
